

Summer Reading Assignment for 10th Grade English

10th grade Instructor: Mrs. Face

Email: mface@args.us

Welcome to World Composition and Literature at ARGS (otherwise known as English 10)! Over the summer, please purchase a copy of the following novel.

The Hate U Give by Angie Thomas

The book cost varies from $10-$12 at amazon.com. You may order from any other vendor or pick it up from any bookstore. It's also fine if you are able to check it out from your library. As long as you read it and complete the reflection assignment, it is not essential that you have the book in your possession when we return to school.

After you read the novel, please respond to at least one of the following. Your response should be one full page in length. I am looking for your words and your thoughts only. There is no need to research or include any quotations, unless you are quoting from the text itself.

1. Describe a time when you had to stand up for what is right. How did you feel? What made you do it? What was the outcome?
2. How can young people be a catalyst for change in a polarized society?
3. How do you define family? How do you think characters in the book would define family?
4. Do you ever feel torn between two different lives? Explain.

Feel free to email your reflections to me, if you would like. I can't wait to meet all of you!!
